QUESTION PRESENTED FOR REVIEW

Respondent, Administrators of the Tulane Educational Fund, has called into question the relationship of the Honorable Ginger Berrigan with Tulane University. Petitioner, Dr. Carl Bernofsky, by means of the documentary evidence appended herewith, corrects errors of fact introduced by respondent.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

I. Judge Berrigan's Adjunct Professorship

Respondent makes the claim that Judge Berrigan is not an adjunct faculty member at Tulane University and that her only involvement with teaching at Tulane was as a substitute teacher for the course taught by Judge Charles Schwartz, Jr. Respondent's Brief in Opposition, at 4.

Despite these assertions, Federal District Court Judge Ginger Berrigan was Adjunct Associate Professor of Law at Tulane University for many years and taught the course, Trial Advocacy, during the 1995-96 academic year. Appendix, at A-1 & A-2. Since then, Judge Berrigan has maintained a professional association with Tulane through her continued participation in the Law School's Judicial Externship Program (Appendix, at A-3 to A-5), and as a substitute instructor for the course, Federal Practice & Procedure: Trials, taught by Adjunct Professor, Federal District Court Judge Charles Schwartz, Jr. Appendix, at A-6 & A-7.

Judge Berrigan's desire to continue her professional relationship with Tulane as adjunct professor is demonstrated by her intention to participate in the Law School's Judicial Externship Program until at least 2000, as evidenced in the current Tulane Law School Catalog. Appendix, at A-5.

From petitioner's prior knowledge, Tulane's adjunct faculty appointments are made for periods of one or more academic years that begin on July 1st and end the following June 30th. Tulane's latest claim that "Judge Berrigan is not an adjunct faculty member," indicates that her latest appointment was allowed to lapse or not renewed, perhaps as a means of "damage control." This also raises the possibility of ex parte communications between the Judge and defendant.

The non-renewal of Judge Berrigan's adjunct appointment, coupled with Tulane's vigorous efforts to refute her association with defendant and justify her right to sit in the proceedings currently before her, implies that Judge Berrigan may be more valuable to Tulane as a judge than as a teacher. These actions raise a material question of Tulane's underlying motivation in its strenuous opposition to an impartial judge.

II. Judge Berrigan's Board Membership

Respondent makes the claim that Judge Berrigan's membership on the Board of Directors of Tulane University's Amistad Research Center ended in 1994, just before petitioner filed his first lawsuit against Tulane in January, 1995. Respondent's Brief in Opposition, at 3.

Despite respondent's assertion, Federal District Court Judge Ginger Berrigan reported in the 1995, 1996, and 1997 editions of the Almanac of the Federal Judiciary that she had a continuing membership in Tulane's Amistad Research Center during all of those years. Appendix, at A-8 to A-10. The Almanac of the Federal Judiciary is updated twice annually, allowing her adequate opportunities to make earlier corrections. Moreover, Judge Berrigan never indicated that those entries were erroneous when her membership on Amistad's Board of Directors was pointed out in petitioner's initial motion for her recusal. Bernofsky v. Tulane, Civil Action No. 98-1792, Docket No. 18 (E.D. La. Oct. 15, 1998).

It was only after petitioner had discovered Judge Berrigan's continuing membership in Tulane's Amistad Research Center and raised objections to her adjudication in his lawsuits against Tulane that Judge Berrigan altered her record. The altered record appears in the Almanac of the Federal Judiciary for 1998. Appendix, at A-11. It creates the appearance that Judge Berrigan did not serve as a director of a Tulane research center during the time that she presided in petitioner's lawsuits against Tulane. Respondent now utilizes this newly-created record to support the claim that Judge Berrigan was not associated with the defendant when she sat in petitioner's cases against Tulane. This appears to be another attempt at "damage control."

III. Tulane's Amistad Research Center

Tulane is justifiably proud of its Amistad Research Center and represents it publically as a Tulane University affiliate in newspapers and directories. Appendix, at A-12 & A-13, respectively.

Far from being an independent entity, the Amistad Research Center takes its place among the many centers established at Tulane University. Appendix, at A-14. Despite respondent's assertion of Amistad Center's total independence, the Center is subject to many of the same regulations imposed by Tulane on other centers located on its campus, and the financial and other material support that the Amistad Center receives from Tulane, as outlined in the initial Petition, is undisputed.

The integration of Amistad's key administrative personnel (Appendix, at A-15) into the Tulane family is exemplified by the listing of Amistad's Executive Director and Comptroller in Tulane University's Directory for Faculty and Staff. Appendix, at A-16 & A-17, respectively.

CONCLUSION

The arguments for mandamus put forth in the initial Petition remain unchanged, except they have acquired greater significance as a result of respondent's recent claims that were clearly intended to mislead this Honorable Court.

That the Honorable Ginger Berrigan, Judge of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana, willfully concealed her material and long-term association with the defendant during the years that she sat in judgment of petitioner's lawsuits against Tulane University is undisputed. To offset this state of affairs, respondent has attempted to minimize the significance of Judge Berrigan's association with the defendant. However, as demonstrated herein, respondent could accomplish this only by relying on misrepresentations of fact.

The extraordinary behavior of Judge Berrigan warrants the extraordinary remedy afforded by mandamus. For the reasons stated here and in the initial Petition, petitioner, Dr. Carl Bernofsky, respectfully prays that a writ be issued by this Honorable Court directed to respondent, the Honorable Ginger Berrigan, Judge of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana, directing her to vacate her order denying petitioner's motion for recusal and disqualify herself from presiding in the action now pending before her, and to grant all other relief as the Court may deem proper.

Respectfully submitted,

Oct. 7, 1999

ADMINISTRATORS OF THE TULANE
EDUCATIONAL FUND

SECTION "C"

IT IS ORDERED that the plaintiff's motion for recusal is hereby DENIED. For the record, the undersigned's only teaching undertaking at Tulane University School of Law involved volunteer substitute teaching a few classes for Judge Charles Schwartz, Jr., which involved no compensation. In addition, the Amistad Research Center is a distinct corporate entity which is located on Tulane's campus. In any event, membership on the Amistad's Board of Directors ended several years ago. There is no basis for the plaintiff's suggestion that the undersigned's impartiality might reasonably be questioned by virtue of these two circumstances under 28 U.S.C. § 455. ←

Federal Practice & Procedure: Appeals Seminar

This course covers the Federal Rules of Appellate Procedure and their application in litigation before the federal courts. Topics include, but are not limited to, post-trial motions preparatory to appeal, perfecting an appeal, appeals from interlocutory orders, and US Supreme Court practice. This course is a component of the Appellate Advocacy Clinic and must be taken by students enrolled in that clinic. It is also open to students not enrolled in the Appellate Advocacy Clinic. This course is limited to 20 students. 3 credits. Mr. Allbritton.

Federal Practice & Procedure: Trials

This course covers the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and their application in litigation before the federal courts. 2 credits. Judge Schwartz, Chief Judge Sear, and Magistrate Wilkinson.

Feminist Legal Theory

The course will present an overview of feminist legal theories, including radical, cultural, postmodern, and critical race aspects of feminist legal thought. We will also examine the application of feminist theories to specific areas of law, e.g., contract law, property law, and international law. 3 credits. Ms. O'Neill. Not offered 1998-99.

Financial Institutions

This course covers the law of banking, financial institutions, and capital markets. Monetary growth, Federal Reserve policies, deposit insurance, chartering, branches, electronic funds transfer, mergers, and holding companies are given major emphasis. A brief survey of contrasting regulation of savings institutions, insurance companies, mutual funds, pension funds, investment banking, and the stock markets is provided. Problems of discrimination, capital formation, inflation, deregulation, and regulatory reform are also considered. Students may take an examination for the whole grade or write a paper for part of the grade. 3 credits. Mr. Lovett.
